

NLP for Business – A Free Taster Session

5th February 2010 - 11.30am to 12.30pm

Venue: Park Royal Workforce, Monarch House,
Victoria Rd, London W3 6UR.

Neuro how the mind and body interact

Linguistic the insights into a person's thinking through their language use

Programming the study of the thinking and behavioural patterns people use daily

This session introduces four powerful seminars to motivate yourself and your team to succeed and enhance your business skills.

Learn in hours what experts have taken years to discover by trial and error.

Learn how the mind works and how to make powerful connections at the unconscious level to motivate, delegate, coach and lead yourself and other members of your team to succeed.

Use NLP to:

1. Identify the 'ingredients' that make excellent performers. What do they do that is different from less expert people.
2. Introduce these tools into your own performance
3. Look at the ingredients of less-than-successful performers, in ourselves or in others, and use NLP to change or replace these.
